As directed by the probation officer, the defendant shall notify third parties of risks that may be occasioned by the defendant's criminal record or personal history or characteristics and shall permit the probation officer to make such notifications and to confirm the defendant's compliance with such notification requirement.

Travel Restrictions

The Judicial District is defined as the state of Vermont. You are not allowed to leave the state of Vermont without permission from the probation officer.

Travel Within the District: Any absence from your residence for more than 72 hours should be approved in advance. If your absence is to secure another residence, you must obtain advance permission. Permission may be granted verbally or in writing for this kind of travel.

Travel Outside the District: All requests for travel within the United States should be made at least two weeks in advance. Please note that there are certain areas in the country with specific requirements or restrictions regarding travel.

Travel Outside the Country: Any international travel must be approved by the Court. Approval from the country to which you wish to travel may also be required. Your request must be submitted at least six weeks in advance.

Travel may be denied at the discretion of your probation officer.

As a general policy, you will not be allowed to travel outside of the district during the first 60 days of supervision.
